Editorials

Men of good will are being forgotten

What are we to do? The Supreme Court has under- cut all hope of our ever working out our racial problem in the light of our experiences and our desire that our children, both white and Negro, not be hurt. The court's recent action has, without a doubt, laid the foundation for wrecking our system of public education, to include the communities which have gone deeply into debt to provide fine facilities for all children whom we have neglected for decades. Yet, the court's decision was inevitable in the face of its 1954 decision.

From the beginning the court has completely ignored the feelings of all people in the states and communities which are bearing the brunt of their rulings. They simply cannot understand our relations with the Negro. They cannot understand that we were moving steadily toward helping the Negro attain status, and providing means for the determination of his very best interests. Many communities were succeeding in establishing communication between the races with a resulting growth and satisfying relationship. These goals were being set and the effort to attain them was the work of the men and women of good will in both races.

But now a terrific barricade is being thrown up before these people by our Supreme Court, which seems to be determined that a social revolution must come about through judicial tyranny and force of arms.

Because of the court's decisions responsible men, in whom the people of our South have placed the business of running our state government, are, in turn, throwing up barricades against the court's rulings.

Last week the Supreme Court dispelled any hope of a breathing spell in which we might begin anew to heal the racial tensions that have built up by its original 1954 decision. It now says that there will be no such thing as orderly process of social evolution. It now arrogantly tells us its will must be obeyed.

Because the Federal Government will not permit our state governments to conduct our own affairs, in a manner designed to be most beneficial to all our people, we are approaching a most tragic era.

If the goal, set by the determination of the Supreme Court to completely integrate our schools, is attained, then their victory will be a hollow one indeed — one without dignity to both races. Nothing good can come from judicial edicts enforced against our will and our conscientious convictions, especially when done by force of arms.

People of good will of both races are being forgotten and forced into positions incompatible with our place in this great nation we call ours.

A man of strength

In one of the most convincing gubernatorial victories in the recent history of Georgia politics, Ernest Vandiver was swept into the office of governorship of the state in the September 10 primary.

Winning all but three of the state's 159 counties, the new governor will carry into the capitol convincing authority with which to implement his program for the people of Georgia.

And we're sure that Mr. Vandiver realizes that his work is cut out for him. There is increasing pressures surrounding the problem of education in Georgia. There is the frightening problem of satisfying the demands of the people for expanded services with the attending problem of financing them. The demand for paved roads and highways never diminishes. And then there are the thousands of little things which must plague the men in the highest position in our great state.

But he is a man of strength and character and with a cooperative Legislature and a vocal people he must be challenged by the high honor Georgians have conferred upon him.

May his term of office be blessed and his service to the people be dedicated.

His stature still grows

Thirty-five thousand, two hundred and sixty-sixty voters of the 60,056 citizens in the First District who voted in the congressional race on Wednesday, September 10, voted for Congressman Prince Preston. This is 10,476 more votes than were polled by Candidate Elliott Hagan, who received 24,790 votes.

Under the county unit system

Mr. Preston won fifteen of the eighteen counties with a total of thirty-eight unit votes. Mr. Hagan carried three counties with six unit votes.

Either way one looks at the results there is enough margin to suggest that the people of the First District believe that Mr. Preston has done and is doing a fine job as representing them in our National Congress.

We congratulate Mr. Preston upon his victory. We commend him and his supporters for the manner in which he and they conducted the campaign for his reelection.

Mr. Preston continues to grow in stature on the national level of our government, while maintaining his local touch. This comes about by hard work and diligent study of the problems which confront our nation.

He now returns to Washington with the good wishes and an encouraging endorsement from those whom he represents. This gives him the incentive to dedicate himself to the proposition that the people of his district trust him and depend upon him to represent them in these troublesome times.

This Week's Meditation

By The Rev. L. E. Houston Jr.

AS YOU WOULD HAVE THEM

I MISSED some bright, eager, young faces in my congregation on yesterday. I am sure that my fellow pastors experienced that same feeling, for all of us miss our older youth as they leave each September for nine-months of college training. And, as we dislike to see them leave, we delight to see them return at Christmas vacation, and then again for the summer rest.

These youth mark the leadership of our nation in the very near future. How heartening it is to talk with them and watch as they gain maturity in their thinking and in their actions.

WE WHO LIVE in Statesboro and Bulloch County have a blessing that other communities lack. While other towns and counties must share their young people with someone else, and longingly wait for a vacation period to have them home again, we have the priceless privilege of having countless young people to live in our community for nine months whose homes range from the hills of Habersham to Tybee Lighthouse.

On next Sunday, September 21, Georgia Teachers College will open its doors to the freshmen students for the fall term. And from Sunday on the college campus will come alive again in the bustle of new activity.

I WONDER if we really appreciate the intangible assets which a college brings to a local community? Besides the financial consideration the culture, enlightened intelligence, and rewarding fellowship with these eager young lives lifts the tone of the entire population.

For one, while I dislike to give up my own students to another church and community, I thrill at the opportunity to have G.T.C. students in my congregation and in our town. We shall be richer for the experience.

JESUS ONCE framed a Christian principle that we have named "The Golden Rule." It says something about doing unto others as you would have them do unto you. Surely, as we hope the residents of other college communities will treat our own as their own, we will express many ways to the college students, our support and gratitude for the privilege of being a "college town."

THE BILCH Street Recreation Center, quarters for the library were furnished by the Statesboro Recreation Department. The library opened for summer reading under the direction of Grace G. Smith, secretary of the library, and the principal of our elementary schools in the state. I am sure that the recognition of the State Department of Education, as a result of the Federal Aid to Libraries Bill.

The circulation desk in the library, in charge of Mrs. Nan Edith Jones, has a circulation of 40,000 each year. Some of the books returned to the library are the result of the State Department of Education, as a result of the Federal Aid to Libraries Bill.

The outstanding accomplishment of the library during the year was the establishment of a branch library for Negroes at

"Oh dear! I just mailed some letters with old-fashioned stamps! Am I in real trouble with the government?"

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

EVERY TIME we pass the home of Walter Grover on College Boulevard at the corner of East Grady Street we are filled with nostalgia for our boyhood days.

We remember sitting on our front porch in a high-backed rocking chair with our bare feet high on those porch posts.

What set us back in our memory are those seven big, high-backed rockers which stand, unrocking, on Mr. Grover's front porch.

On Thursday morning of last week we discovered that on the front porch of the home of Mrs. Frank DeLoach on South Zetzer Avenue at East Grady Street, there are three or four of these wonderful chairs. And if that were not enough, on the front porch of Mrs. Ethel Floyd on Broad Street, there were more of these wonderful chairs.

There are still two on the front porch of our mother's home on South College.

Mr. Arthur Howard's home on South Main at Grady Street is graced by these rocking chairs and Mr. Howard himself still uses one of them as he sits watching the world go by.

We suspect that a ride around town would reveal more of these chairs. We're sure that Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Oliff have one of these chairs on their porch of their home on North Main Street. We're sure that Mrs. R. J. Kennedy has some on that rambling front porch of her home on North Main Street.

And while thinking upon this business of these old-fashioned chairs we bet that there are chairs at every home where there is still a wide front porch. They sort of go together.

If we could get the world to go back to building homes with wide front porches with banisters around their edges and plentifully supplied with high-backed rockers, there'd be more peace in the world. There would be less people in our mental institutions, and communities would be filled with more happy people.

Or are we just dreaming?

A LAZY MAN could pick up a tidy bit of spending money if he were smart enough to gather up the lost cotton which lies along the edges of our highways these days.

THE DOVE season opened in Georgia on Monday of this week. It began the first half of the season for dove hunting.

IT FLATTERS us when our traveling friends bring us copies of the newspapers they buy while touring our nation. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Winburn have just returned from an extended tour to the West Coast. Mr. Bob brought us issues of newspapers from forty-three towns and cities which they visited. We are fascinated by them, and they are providing us with many hours of delightful browsing.

NOW THAT the election is over, we expect all the candidates to send their "road" men out into all the counties and to bring about the pictures on the telephone poles, the fence posts, the pine trees, the stumps and barn walls. Well now, we're just wishing, for you and I know that they'll do no such thing. But they should be made to clean up their campaign mess, win, lose or draw.

It Seems to Me...

According to David Lawrence, editor of United States News and World Report, we can now look to the Supreme Court as our Supreme School Board in all matters pertaining to education.

Perhaps it might be able to solve the school crisis in Chatham County by simply passing a law upping the taxes. This wouldn't be any different from the school measures they are attempting to enforce.

THE STATE Board of Education meets today in Atlanta to decide at what age a child should be allowed to enter school. My personal feeling doesn't have any bearing on the case but it seems to me that the government that recognizes the right of parents to have their children educated in the home should not be so quick to take away that right.

I FEEL a great sorrow for those parents who have seen their schools closed because of the segregation and integration problem. Surely there must be a way to convince the Justice Department of the Federal Government that the recognition of states rights by the Federal Government is not going to accept this act of the Supreme Court as the law of the land.

There may come a time in the near future when the Southern States will be compelled to resort to passive resistance to bring about the recognition of states rights by the Federal Government. For the first time in my life I feel a little of fear as I hear and write the words "Federal Government."

THERE ARE some who believe that the rulings of the court have a sinister reason behind them. There are those who are seriously concerned that the court may actually be working to destroy all states rights and to bring about the absolute control of all government functions from Washington. This is not a far fetched idea as some might think in the history of nations this type thing has led to anarchy and dictatorship.

I have heard some of our people say that we have no choice but to comply with the court ruling. This I do not believe and if we are not betrayed by our representatives in the national government we will in the end be successful, not just in the delay of integration but in the destruction of it.

IF THE GOVERNORS of these Southern States will form a union of resistance there are many ways in which we can resist this encroachment of states rights and yet not believe that this thing is something much bigger than just the school question.

In any state where federal troops are sent or where federal marshals march we can refuse to collect taxes to their maintenance, we can disobey our National Guard, we can refuse to draft a single soldier or to enforce a federal law and while these things are drastic thoughts we must be prepared to resist to the bitter end the destruction of our very way of life.

THE EDITORIAL states, "The kind of civilization we have has virtually wiped out creative effort in the average person, who has become a tiny cog in a vast system of technocracy. The only hope that man has of retaining his individualism, and of his sanity, as well as a healthy perspective, is the rediscovery of creativity. Many thousands have done this in one form or another. Let us hope that, before work weeks are shortened any further, the adult education work that has burgeoned so in this century will go still further in teaching people, not how to kill time, but to nurture time so that it produces worth while things for those who treat it gently."

THE ARCHITECT, the psychiatrist and the editor who have spoken. Let the school teacher add that there is a crying need for developing creativeness in the school child. If creativeness isn't nurtured in childhood it is almost too late to try and develop it in adulthood.

Don't let the cry of the "more science" and the cry of "schools are supposed to teach reading, writing, and 'broadening'" be too deafening. The child's creativeness must be stirred, too!

In the Atlanta Journal on the appearance of the article reprint from the Hartford Courant. It told of a psychiatrist's warning to labor leaders that a shortened work week would mean a great mental breakdown and would create a need for thousands of new psychiatrists. The psychiatrist pointed out that some would accept the shortened work week by merely increasing the number of hours per day in teaching, and TV and would double their quota of westerns and old cartoons.

The dresses were first judged on points of construction, then were judged as the girls came out singly, then in a group, modeling their dresses.

The judges were Mrs. Harry Warren, Mrs. Harry Brunson, and Mrs. Ernest Brannen.

From the senior division, Mary Alice Belcher of Brooklet, won first place. Carlene Franklin, in the junior division, won first place. They will compete in the state contests held at some future date.

I Am Grateful

Though not successful in my race for the Georgia Legislature, I want to take this opportunity to thank every person who was helpful and who supported me in my campaign. Many persons actively assisted me while many others were receptive and courteous when I solicited and sought their vote and support. For all of these and for those who voted for me in the recent election, I am truly grateful.

I pledge my continued support to the best interest of the people of Bulloch County and to offer my services in whatever manner that I might serve.

BUICK's New Styling Is Sleek And Low

Sleek and low describes Buick's new styling for 1959. The model shown is the luxurious two-door Electra hardtop which measures less than 55 inches in height yet retains approximately the same headroom as last year's Buick. The "delta-wing" styling of the rear fenders that flare out to a point, and twin headlights that are set on an angle like the new Buick a look that is light and jaunty. Compound windshields that curve back into the roof and eliminate wind noise are a feature on all 1959 Buicks. The Electra is powered by a 401-cubic inch V-8 engine with 10.5-to-1 compression ratio. Twin turbine Dynaflow and power steering are standard on all models in the Electra series.

RETURN TO HOME IN CARIBOU, MAINE

Mrs. J. G. Fletcher and daughter, Elaine, have returned to Caribou, Maine, after spending two weeks here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Fletcher. Mr. Fletcher is field service representative for General Electric at Loring Air Force Base, Maine.

Some ways to handle tensions suggested by Miss Audrey Morgan, Extension family life specialist, are: balance work with play, loaf a little, do one task at a time, talk out troubles, learn to accept what cannot be changed, get away for a while.

VITAMINS
The two vitamins most likely to be found short among farm people are A, found in dark green and deep yellow vegetables, and the citrus fruit vitamin C, according to the U.S.D.A. survey on food consumption. Farm folks have more than city families of all other nutrients.

The grade of an egg refers to its quality, says Extension consumer information specialists. During 1957, only 19 of Georgia's 159 counties had no commercial broiler production, Extension poultrymen report.

Extension agronomists point out that because Bahia grass seed are easily spread over a farm by cattle the grass may become a pest in cultivated fields.

In Georgia, 149 counties have organized fire protection units, according to Extension foresters. Georgia leads the South in pulpwood production harvesting about 4 million cords annually, report Extension foresters.

STORAGE IN WOODEN BINS

STORAGE IN WOODEN BINS
The following fumigants and dosages are recommended for storage in wooden bins. In steel bins these dosages may be reduced 50 per cent for small grains and 20 per cent for corn and grain sorghum.

Fumigant No. 1 — 4 parts carbon tetrachloride plus 1 part carbon disulfide—dosage in gallons per 1,000 bushels—small grain, 3; sorghum, 8, shelled corn, 6.
Fumigant No. 2 — 1 part carbon tetrachloride plus 3 parts ethylene dichloride—dosage in gallons per 1,000 bushels—small grain, 6; sorghum, 10; shelled corn, 6.

Both these mixtures are available commercially. If the grain is to be used for seed, use fumigant No. 2. Some injury to germination may result when Fumigant No. 1 is used if moisture content of grain is over 12 per cent.

The door of the bin should be sealed after the fumigant is applied and marked so that no one will enter and be exposed accidentally to the vapor. After 72 hours open the bin and allow grain to aerate thoroughly.

TREATING SMALL AMOUNTS

Small quantities of grain, beans, or peas can be fumigated effectively in drums, barrels, or lard cans. In a 50-gallon drum or barrel use one-half pint or a one-third mixture of carbon tetrachloride — ethylene dichloride or use two table-spoons of this mixture in a 50-pound lard can.

Sprinkle the appropriate amount of fumigant over the surface of the grain and cover with canvas or sacks. Allow 72 hours for fumigation and then aerate thoroughly.

Caution — These fumigants

County agent gives advice on handling stored grain

By ROY POWELL
County Agent

FUMIGATION OF STORED GRAIN

With corn harvesting time at hand I want to pass along this information on the fumigation of stored grain from Extension Entomologist C. R. Jordan.

Grain in storage should be fumigated to kill various insect pests which destroy the grain or make it unfit for human consumption. Remember that the fumigation kills the insects present but does not protect grain against reinfestation. Therefore, grain should be inspected frequently to see when additional fumigations are necessary.

Storage bins must be almost air tight for effective and economical fumigation. Loosely constructed buildings can be made tight by lining with builders paper. A tarpaulin or other cover spread over surface of the grain after fumigation is applied will help.

To be fumigated properly, corn must be shucked and shelled. The top surface of the grain should be level and not closer than six inches to the ceiling.

If any fumigant is spilled on the skin, it should be washed off immediately with soap and water. When using, follow the directions on the label.

Gordon Hensen, Lieut. Governor of Kiwanis Clubs speaks in Brooklet

By MRS. JOHN A. ROBERTSON

At the meeting of the Kiwanis Club, the night of September 5, at the community house, a delegation from the Savannah Kiwanis Club, headed by Gordon Hensen, Lieut. Governor for the Eighth District attended the meeting. Six or eight young men from the Groves High School Key Clubs, that are sponsored by the Savannah Kiwanis Club, also attended the meeting. These young men presented a program as to the meaning and activities of the Key Club for the benefit of twelve young high school boys from Southeast Bulloch High School, guests of the Brooklet Kiwanis Club.

Following up this meeting, on September 11, another meeting was held after a report from W. E. Gear, principal of Southeast Bulloch High School, stating that the boys in the school were very much interested in forming a Key Club. The members of the Brooklet Kiwanis Club voted to sponsor such a move, and Edward L. Wynn and W. E. Gear were reappointed as a committee to get the Key Club at Southeast Bulloch High School organized.

On September 11, four members of the Hampton, Ga. Kiwanis Club attended the Brooklet meeting. The Hampton Club has a project, one part of which was to visit the Brooklet Club on an interclub visit to all Mrs. W. D. Lee and Miss Irene the 107 Kiwanis Clubs in Georgia.

During the reception a musical program was presented by the club on an interclub visit to all Mrs. W. D. Lee and Miss Irene the 107 Kiwanis Clubs in Georgia.

Concrete
The highway ride of 1975 is here!
New-type, sound-conditioned concrete for your new Interstate System of super-roads

There's not a "thump" to be heard when you drive this continuous-laid concrete. Almost like riding above the pavement, instead of on it. You'll say this new-type concrete gives you the smoothest, most quiet ride ever. It's laid without interrupting joints. Then only the tiniest cushion spaces are sawed into the surface. You never feel or hear them. Freezing, thawing and de-icing can't hurt new-type concrete. What's more, it's laid flat ... stays flat ... serves 50 years and more. Sound reasons why new-type concrete is the preferred pavement for the new Interstate System.

All class rooms were open and teachers were hosts in their respective rooms. After an inspection of the building the group assembled in the cafeteria and Mrs. H. H. Godbee, president of the P.T.A., and W. E. Gear, principal of the school, welcomed the guests and made short, informative talks. Refreshments were served by the members of the home-making classes.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Key and daughters, Deborah Ann and Dianne, have recently moved to Brooklet and are living in the D. E. Lanier Sr. house.

Rev. Key is associate pastor and Sunday School superintendent of the Bible Baptist Church in Statesboro. He is also president of the Young People's Bible and Fellowship meetings of this district. He is an employee of the Denmark Candy Company. On Saturday, September 6, Mrs. Key entertained with a birthday supper for Rev. Key. Those present were the Rev. and Mrs. Tommy Tompkins and son, David; Rev. and Mrs. Franklin Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lowe, Bonnie and Earline.

Stilson community still waging big battle against rattlesnakes

By MRS. W. H. MORRIS

Last Thursday afternoon, September 11, at about 4 o'clock, a rattlesnake caused quite a bit of excitement at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Morris.

Their little daughter, Linda, age 9, went to the front door and looked out. She called excitedly to her mother to come back. I was sitting in their living room and immediately went to the door and looked to see this large rattler crawling in the road toward their house.

I called to Mrs. Morris to get the rifle and upon bringing the rifle, we found that there was a small stick in the barrel and we could not get it to shoot. So they got the shot gun and shot the snake. The snake was about 5'3" long.

It so, at last, decided to send someone to the field, where the folk were engaged in peanut picking, for some of them to come kill the snake. Mrs. Morris and I stood guard while Lillian and Jerry Morris went for help. Mr. J. L. Morris came back with them and removed the shell from the rifle and shot and killed the rattler, (who was still patiently waiting for us to find the right weapon with which to kill him). Mr. Morris obliged, and found him (or her) to have 15 rattles. You can imagine that we have all been watching out for snakes every since.

ANOTHER ONE
Last week I heard about another outstanding event with still another rattler. This was not in this community, but was about six or seven miles away. Mr. and Mrs. James H. Morris and son, Gary of Savannah, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morris last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Powell and Miss Linda Pifton of Savannah were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morris last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lanier and son, Rocky, Mrs. Julie Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Ethridge and children, Lannie and Lawana, Mrs. Gordon Freeman, all of Statesboro, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Lowe and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Beaty of Brooklet.

Judy Nesmith wins 3rd place in Georgia 4-H bread contest

Judy Nesmith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nesmith of Nevis, was declared to be a winner in the sixth annual 4-H Club Congress achievement contest held in Atlanta last week. Miss Nesmith was third place winner in the competition for the state championship in yeast bread making. Judy was the youngest junior in the competition.

The young 4-H Club girl had already won first place in Bulloch County in the yeast bread-making contest, and first place in the Southeastern Regional meeting at Rock Eagle.

While in Atlanta Judy, together with the other 4-H Club entrants in the achievement contests, was entertained by the Georgia Bankers Association, the Atlanta Journal and the Atlanta Constitution who were hosts at the 4-H Club Junior Leadership Banquet at the Dinkler-Plaza Hotel, the Savannah Sugar Refinery, and the Georgia Chamber of Commerce.

Nineteen years ago Judy's mother, Mrs. Lavada Martin Nesmith was winner of second place in the state 4-H Club health contest. She recalls, "I missed first place by one point" and explained "I let myself get three pounds overweight just before the judging took place."

Mrs. W. E. Gear accompanied Judy to Atlanta.

JUST ARRIVED... BRAND NEW!

Blue Devils

for four and a first down at the 16.

The rest of the game was a punting duel between Shore and Hagan. Shore punted six times for a line 37-8 average and Hagan's average was 30.7 on the same number of kicks.

WITH FIVE MINUTES left in the game, Statesboro had a mild threat stopped by a clipping penalty. McClanery had run to the Savannah 34, but the penalty nullified the gain. Joey Hagan then made the longest run of the night from scrimmage, for 21 yards, but Statesboro lost the ball on successive one yard gains. Savannah's center Gene Cashman, and guard Johnny Wells made the stops.

Savannah took over and three plays failed. Shore's punt was nearly blocked, the ball going under a Statesboro defender's arm. The game ended a few plays later.

Statesboro had the long end of the statistics, leading in every offensive department, and holding the Blue Jackets to just one first down.

DEFENSIVE HEROES were a dime a dozen in this one. For Statesboro, Ben Hagan, Jerry Talwell, Sammy Brannen, and Billy Seare stood out. Seare, son of the Georgia Teachers College athletic director, was the lightest man on the field at 135 pounds, but his tackling at a linebacker spot was outstanding.

For Savannah, end Don Harvey, tackle Mike Duggan, Cashman, tackle Dave Abernombie, guard Don Woeltzen, and end Dickie Player, played a good defense.

Shearouse carried 14 times for 40 yards, and Joey Hagan gained 40 yards in 10 tries to lead Statesboro's ball-carriers. Ground-gaining honors for Savannah went to Shore, with 31 yards in 10 tries, and to Brown, who ran for 30 yards in seven carries.

Dean Paul Carroll says extending welcome is a pleasant experience

Extending a welcome to students is always a pleasant experience. The familiar faces of those who have already established themselves as members of the college community are reminders of past achievements and happy associations, and the new faces give promise of stimulating associations and achievements yet to be attained.

Because of the complex problems of our time, we are this year perhaps a little more conscious than previously of the opportunities and the challenges of the college year ahead. The crowded campuses everywhere, including Georgia Teachers College, make it most mandatory for each student to justify his presence in college by his seriousness of purpose and his accomplishments.

Georgia Teachers College, your college, is in the most favorable position of its history to be of service. The expanded academic program, the professional competency of the faculty, the increased services in testing, guidance and counseling, the improved physical facilities, and the fine spirit and general excellence of the student body provide splendid conditions and environment for your intellectual, emotional, and spiritual growth. What is done with the opportunity for growth is of course up to the individual student.

In surroundings different from those of the home and the home community, the character and the real ability of a person emerge. As you come to the campus for the first time or after the summer vacation, be assured that you are welcome and that the college is most eager to assist you in the furtherance of your educational objectives and in your personal development.

Sincerely,
Paul Carroll, Dean

G.T.C. construction program includes five new buildings costing $2,247,000

The construction program at Georgia Teachers College currently includes two buildings now under construction, one recently approved, and one in "request status."

Buildings under construction include a Dining Hall-Student Center which has been named the "Frank I. Williams Building" after the late father of First District Regent F. Everett Williams. The other building now under construction is a combination classroom and science building.

Recently approved for construction to start within four or five months is an Arts Building. A 168 capacity girls' dormitory has been requested from an agency of the Federal Housing Authority. Final word is expected any time.

The Frank I. Williams Building will house a book store, snack bar, lounge, post office, offices for student organizations, and the dining hall.

The approximate cost of the new classroom building is $600,000, about the same as the Frank I. Williams Building.

The building will house the science, business education and home economics divisions. These three divisions now use classroom space in four different campus buildings.

Governor Griffin last week signed the budget request of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia for $450,000 with which to build a new Arts and Industrial Arts Building at Georgia Teachers College.

Everett Williams of Statesboro stated that it is anticipated that contracts for the new building would be let in four or five months.

The ultra-modern building will have 29,000 square feet.

Governor Griffin said, "This facility has been needed for a long time and when completed it will provide the teachers college at Statesboro with one of the finest industrial arts buildings in the South."

A warehouse was completed in June 1957 at a cost of $37,000. It houses under one roof all of the normal college supplies for G.T.C.

Dr. Herbert Rice will be in charge of the new building which will be let in four or five months.

Dr. Rice received his B.S. degree from Georgia in 1937, and M.Ed. there in 1938 and an Ed.D. degree from Georgia in 1955. He spent four years in the U.S. Army during World War II.

An addition to the business education division will be Mr. EDWIN DURWARD DAVIDSON, who will hold the faculty rank of assistant professor. Mr. Davidson graduated from Georgia Teachers College in 1950 and gained an M.Ed. from the University of Florida in 1957.

After spending two years in service, Mr. Davidson has been principal of Cadwell (Ga.) public schools.

Mr. HUBERT EUGENE McALLISTER will teach history with the rank of assistant professor of social science. He has been teaching history at Mercer University since 1956.

He received A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of North Carolina in 1953 and 1955. Mr. McAllister spent six years in the Marine Corps and two years with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He studied toward a doctorate at U.N.C. this summer.

Mr. JOHN S. MARTIN JR., a Georgia Teachers College graduate of 1950, will teach industrial arts in the Marvin Pittman Building. He will replace Mr. Jones Peltis who recently resigned following eight years of teaching at Martin Pittman College.

Since 1951 Mr. Martin has been a favorite dance team on television for a long time.

1,000 now at GTC; 101 on faculty

When more than a thousand students enter the Georgia Teachers College classrooms on Friday, a total of twenty new faculty and staff members will be on hand to greet them. G.T.C. now has a total of 101 people with the familiar classification of "faculty and staff," the largest number in school history.

DR. SYLVESTER LLOYD TOOMEY will be chairman of the business education division, with the rank of associate professor. He has been extension coordinator at student organizations, and the dining hall.

Formerly a major in the air force, he is married to the former Ann South of Moultrie, Ga., and they have two girls.

MR. WILLIAM M. DEWEY accepted the position of comptroller effective July 1. He received his B.S. from the University of Georgia in 1941, and an M.A. from the University of Georgia in 1945. Since 1948 Mr. Dewberry has been comptroller at Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College at Tifton, which is a member of the University System of Georgia.

Dr. Dewberry is a former G.T.C. student and is a native of Emanuel County where he attended Stillmore High School. He was in the U.S. Army from 1941 to 1945.

Dr. Dewberry has been comptroller at Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College at Tifton, which is a member of the University System of Georgia.

DR. HERBERT RICE will be in charge of the new building which will be let in four or five months.

Dr. Rice received his B.S. degree from Georgia in 1937, and M.Ed. there in 1938 and an Ed.D. degree from Georgia in 1955. He spent four years in the U.S. Army during World War II.

Since 1951 Mr. Martin has been a favorite dance team on television for a long time.

Rep. Preston has operation

Rep. Prince H. Preston entered the Bulloch County Hospital Monday night for surgery which he had been postponing until after the primary election.

The congressman underwent surgery Tuesday for a hernia, a condition which he has had for several months.

I expect it will take about two weeks of recuperating before I'll be back on active duty in my Statesboro office," he said.

BC ADULT SCHOOL

We have reached our quota in many fields of adult education; therefore, there will be an organizational meeting of all people who are interested in "adult education" at the Statesboro High School on Monday evening, September 29, at 7:30 o'clock. You are urged to attend so that the number of courses and the kind of subjects can be determined. It is very important that you attend the first meeting. The number of people present will determine the first course to be taught and the date classes will begin. Registration will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

Pres. Henderson extends Greetings

Since this issue of The Bulloch Herald will be distributed to each student who registers at Georgia Teachers College for the fall of 1958, I appreciate this opportunity of welcoming you to the college. Many of you are here for the first time and you will receive many welcomes from the students, from the churches, from the city, and from many individual citizens of the community.

Georgia Teachers College is fortunate to be located in a city and county as wonderful as Statesboro and Bulloch County. For a number of years we have thought of Bulloch County as one of the most progressive counties of the state and Statesboro as one of the leading communities. You will find the people of Statesboro friendly, interested in your work as students at the college and always willing to help us as we try to develop a good college. In the years that I have been at the college I have never known of a time when the community failed to help us with any of the major needs at the college.

All indications point to an enrollment of more than 1,000. If this is true it will be the first time in the history of the college that a regular term enrollment has been this large. We have had summer sessions with an enrollment of over 1,000.

We appreciate the fine spirit of the college students living in crowded conditions. At the present time each of the five dormitories will have a least some rooms with three students per room. In East Hall and Lewis Hall, two of our women's dormitories there will be three students in each room. The usual comment from a student when we talk to them about three in a room is "We would not want to deny anyone an opportunity of a college education and we would be happy to live three in a room."

The college authorities realize that it would be best to have only two to a room but it is our hope that within a year construction will begin on a new dormitory for women and we plan during the year to make application for additional federal funds for another dormitory for women and a additional one for men.

One of the highlights of the year 1957-58 was the permission granted by the Board of Regents for us to offer a fifth year program. The enrollment in the graduate program during the summer of 1958 was 225 for the first session and 140 for second session. For some years graduate work will be offered during the regular term only on Saturday or in afternoon and evening classes. For the 1958-59 session graduate courses are being offered on Saturday.

Two new buildings are under construction at the college and we are confident that they will be completed in time for the fall of 1959.
